Trips Update

Once again it's snowing, marking the beginning of the 2010-2011 ski season! Many resorts have already opened. I have been getting daily snow reports showing snowfall at many of the resorts. It may prove to be a good year. Do you have your gear ready? Are you in shape? But most of all have you signed up for your favorite trip? If not, now is the time to fill out that paperwork.

The Omaha Ski Club has put together 5 great trips this year. Hopefully you can join us on one or more of them. The early trip to Copper seems to be popular as it is relatively inexpensive and gives us a chance to get our ski legs in time for the FSA Steamboat trip. This trip is also filling fast. There are still spots available, but don't wait too long to sign-up. We will be dropping rooms in mid December.

Telluride has eight people going so far. This is the Chicago Metropolitan Ski Council's week long trip. They have many fun activities, parties and races for those who wish to race. If you wish to sign-up for this trip, contact the trip captain for space availability. Also, those who are signed up, we do have an option of an additional day of skiing for only $46. Please email Teri if you wish to sign-up for that additional day.

Jackson Hole looks as though it will turn into a drive out trip. We have only 5 signed up for this really reasonably priced trip. If you were thinking about doing this without airfare, contact Phil Bintz as soon as possible.

Another great adventure this year will be to Wolf Creek and Purgatory on Durango Mtn. Wolf Creek is a small area with excellent snowfall. The locals favor this mountain. If you want to sign-up for this trip, contact Ben Novograd. There is talk of one extra day for one of the vehicles.

We are forming car pools for driving out to these destinations. If you want to ride with someone, let the trip captain know. If you are driving and want others in your vehicle, contact the trip captain with the date and time you are leaving and also the date and time you are returning. This will help you pair up with others.

I am encouraging all of you to sign-up early. The club puts money on these trips upfront. If we hold rooms past deadlines, the club loses money. If this happens, we can no longer offer good pricing for our trips. If we have little or no participation on the trips we offer, it does not allow us the flexibility of group pricing which also drives the cost of the trips up. Most areas require 20 people to group price. We have been able to keep the costs down by negotiating with our resort contacts when we are close to the required numbers, but I also need your help to support our efforts.

Thanks to all of you who make the Omaha Ski Club successful. We try to offer trips for everyone. It is by your suggestions and pricing that determines where we ski. Let your Board members know where you want to go.

You never know, it may be on the list for the following year.

Got skis, gotta go!!!

Prepare for the Season

Ever been sore after that first day on the slopes? Many of us feel the pain in our calves, hamstrings and quads while others may feel it in their back or abdominal muscles. A few minutes of exercise each day before hitting the slopes may increase your strength and decrease that feeling of soreness after the first day.

Several exercises are helpful to strengthen the quads. Exercises such as wall sits, squats and lunges accomplish this. There are many variations to these exercises as well.

The hamstrings are also important with the quad dominant sports. The hamstrings need to be strengthened to prevent injury. Leg curls and exercises using a ball are helpful. (Lying on the floor, rest your heels on the ball, knees bent at 90 degrees, then raise your hips pulling your heels towards you.)

Calf raises will help decrease that first day soreness. These can be done anywhere. I usually do them while I am waiting at the gas pump or standing in line at the grocery store. While standing, lift your heels off the floor and then back down. Another version of this to stretch your calves is to stand with the ball of your foot on the edge of a step and do the same motion, up on your toes then down with your heels, below the level of the step, stretching the calves. Do this 15-20 times 2-3 times a day.

Core exercises strengthen the abdomen and back. One exercise that helps with all the core muscles is the plank. Lay on your stomach. Lift your body off the ground onto your elbows and toes. Contract your abdominal muscles and keep your back straight to form a "plank". Hold this position for 30 seconds or more per day.

Increasing your overall fitness is beneficial for skiing as well as for your overall health. Activities such as brisk walking, jogging, hiking, road and mountain biking help you prepare for the season. Remember to stretch before you hit the slopes!
