STILL A FEW OPEN SPOTS FOR SNOWMASS

We still have a few spots open on the 2013 FSA trip to Snowmass. The trip runs from January 20 – 27. We have a great bunch of skiers signed up for the trip currently but would welcome a few more. If you have never been on an FSA trip you don't know what you are missing. These trips always give you the best bang for your buck. With reduced lodging and lift ticket costs, welcome parties and a final night awards banquet these trips usually leave everyone satisfied.

With almost a month to go before the trip the four resorts we will be skiing at (Snowmass, Aspen, Aspen Highlands, and Buttermilk) all have well over half of their runs open. I am feeling quite confident that they will be 100% open by January 20.

The condos we will be staying in, the Crestwood, are located right at the base of Snowmass. You can be out the door and on the gondola riding up the mountain in five minutes. And at the end of the day you can be in the hot tub five minutes after your last run. There are also a number of fine restaurants and shopping establishments right within Snowmass Village. And for those who want even more variety Aspen is a short drive or free shuttle bus ride away. Aspen is loaded with dining and shopping.

So if you are considering going on this trip now would be the time to act before the two or three open spots we have get taken.

Happy New Year to all!

Copper Mountain – December 12 to 16, 2012

Seven Omaha Ski Club members arrived at the Best Western Lake Dillon Lodge in Frisco, Colorado on Wednesday, December 12th to participate in several days of skiing at Copper Mountain. Phil, Teri and El drove out from Omaha early, got there the morning of the 12th and got a sneak preview by skiing at Copper on the 12th; Andy, Pat M., Ben and Pat C. drove out during the day and arrived on the evening of the 12th. We all had a nice dinner at Silverheels in Frisco that night. The next morning, on Thursday, the 13th, we all drove from the motel to the ski area. The weather was dry, mild and pleasant. These conditions would continue on Friday. Snow conditions were excellent, but the area of the mountain that was open was limited due to the low snowfall earlier in the season. We met and skied with Brian, a fellow club member, that afternoon; he was staying at his cabin about an hours drive away.

At the end of the skiing day, we stopped at Jack's to see our favorite après-ski band, Lefty Lucy, perform. That evening we had a welcome dinner at a well-known Frisco dining establishment – the Moose Jaw Bar and Grill. The following day, Friday the 14th, we explored the central and west sections of the mountain, and skied the intermediate and easy runs near the American Eagle, Timberline and Flyer lifts. One of the “intermediate” blue runs (Copperfield) had just been opened, and turned out to be very challenging; it was full of hidden stumps, bumps and saplings, and hadn't been groomed at all. The ski patrol closed it again later that day. That evening, we all had an interesting Chinese dinner at a local restaurant, China Szechuan, which was a short walk from our motel. We are able to select from over 70 different unusual menu items, and drank Chinese tea and had fortune cookies for dessert. The following day, on Saturday the 15th, the weather turned colder and snowier. More runs had been opened; we were able ski Rosie's groomed advanced run under the Super Bee lift. Later that afternoon, we finished the day with another stop at Jack's to see Lefty Lucy again, and celebrated Brian's birthday with a shot ski. That evening, we had an Italian dinner in Toscatto's restaurant in downtown Frisco. The cold and snowy weather continued on Sunday the 16th, our departure day. Phil, Teri and Ben skied runs that morning at Copper near the American Eagle, Union Creek, Timberline and Kokomo lifts while the other skiers left right after checking out. We had pleasant, dry conditions on the return trip once we left the mountains. Most of us arrived back in the Omaha area that evening. An excellent start to the ski season!
