Snowmass (FSA) Trip January 20-27, 2013

FSA president Phil Bintz (also our club president) and his fellow FSA board of directors did an outstanding job of making Flatland Ski Association Ski Week 2013 at Aspen/Snowmass a trip to remember. With four mountain resorts to ski and a variety of other planned events there was constantly somewhere to be and something to do.

Having never skied in the area I found having four different mountains to ski at to be extremely enjoyable. Although we could have used a little more snow, what we had was adequate. Each mountain seemed to possess its own personality and character. With all of the available skiing to do, scheduling our trip to start several days before the FSA trip officially started was a great idea of our Vice President of Trips, Teri Hammon. Myself, I skied all four mountains and all six days.

For lodging we stayed at the Crestwood Condos. Although a few of the lofts were a little cramped for space, you could not ask for much more as far as location. Located at the base in Snowmass Village it was a short run to the Elk Camp Gondola or Village Express chair lift. A person could be literally out their condo door and riding up the mountain in a matter of minutes.

Our clubs' first day of skiing was Monday January 21st. Temperatures were fair and the sky was blue. It was a good day to get the kinks out. It was actually my first ski day of the season. That evening we got together for a club welcome party at Slices Pizza, located right across from our condos in Snowmass Village.

Tuesday was another bluebird day of skiing at Snowmass. With the official start of the FSA trip still a day away there was plenty of wide open terrain to ski upon and enjoy.

On Wednesday, after picking up my freshly tuned skis I jumped on the bus and headed for Buttermilk where I met up with Ben, Steve and Lamont. We spent the day skiing at both Buttermilk and Aspen Highlands. Although these two resorts are right next to each other they each have their own style of terrain. At Buttermilk we were fortunate enough to watch them practicing for the upcoming X Games.

X Games jumps and half pipe at Buttermilk. Those jump ramps are massive.

Thursday was a busy day with another ski day back at Snowmass followed by the FSA snowshoe Team Relay Race and the FSA welcome party that evening. Unfortunately Teri had a freak accident skiing up to the lift that day when she hooked a ski and fell. Although the fall was not hard she landed on her shoulder causing a shoulder separation. That was the end of Teri's skiing for the week. I kind of know what a bummer that can be. At last year's FSA trip I was sick and was only able to ski two days. I know though that as I am writing this Teri is skiing at Keystone so I am sure she is making up for those lost runs.

Our snowshoe team consisted of Kim, Lamont, Eric and Dave. Although we did not win the event we did not finish last. I think we are starting to get the hang of it. Thanks to all for participating.

The FSA welcome party meal was the traditional baked potato with all the trimmings and toppings, washed down with Boulevard beers. This was followed by dancing and socializing.

Friday was race day. Maybe when I'm in my eighties and there is not much competition in my age bracket I will win a medal. Congratulations to Phil who picked up a third place medal in his age bracket. Unfortunately, Teri our other consistent medal winner was unable to race because of the injury she suffered the previous day.

Following the Men's race Bill, Kim, Mary and I jumped on the bus and headed to Aspen. We had a great day skiing Aspen. What a great place to ski. Sorry I have no pictures from that day. If you have skied there, you know what I am saying. If not, you need to go back and ski it.

Saturday, our last ski day, was highlighted with a delicious mountain picnic consisting of hamburgers, baked beans, salad and fresh homemade cookies. After 6 days of skiing and playing in the snow there were lots of stories to tell over lunch. Following the ski day was the annual Awards Banquet. A pasta meal was served with fresh Italian bread, salad and vegetables. The dessert table was amazing with loads of chocolate treats

A special thanks to Teri and Ben for supplying the pictures shown in this article. These are just a sample of the great shots they took over the course of the trip. You should be able to view the rest of them shortly at the club's web site.
